

“I am deeply saddened to announce the passing of Greer MacKenzie, one of Northern Ireland’s greatest bridge players.

He was past Chairman of the N.I.B.U and also President of the I.B.U.

He partnered his wife Moyna and Pat Walsh on the all Ireland International teams. He represented Northern Ireland in the Camrose on numerous occasions, playing with a range of partners such as his wife Moyna, Des Scully, Joe Ryder and Michael O’Kane.

I had the honour and privilege to play with Greer for over 30 years, partnering him in numerous Camrose and Senior Camrose events.

He was always gracious and respectful to both his opponents and his partner and was great fun to play with. I recall playing with him on the Camrose that hosted the return of the ROI to this prestigious event.

I think this was his greatest match, as we played nearly all the boards against a very strong team including Tom Hanlon and Hugh McGann. Greer’s defence and card play was immaculate throughout the entire match which led us to a famous victory.

I had a lifelong friendship with Greer that extended past the bridge table and he will be dearly missed.”
